Notification Of Funeral Home Personnel. (Repealed)

~~(1) A physician, hospital administrator, or their designee, may notify the director of a funeral home to which a body is referred when there is known to be present in said patient at the time of death a contagious disease.~~

~~(2) Such notification may be performed by placing on the right great toe of the deceased person an appropriately color-coded body tag. Said body tag shall remain on the remains for final disposition.~~

~~Red: This shall include those notifiable diseases transmitted by blood and body fluids.~~

~~Yellow: This shall include those notifiable diseases transmitted via the respiratory route.~~

~~(3) If, in the course of postmortem examination or preparation, an individual under the control of the funeral home director shall acquire a documented exposure to potential pathogenic body material, the funeral director may be notified of the exact infectious agent present in the body.~~

~~(4) Such documentation of exposure shall be provided in writing within 48 hours of the alleged exposure. Such notification shall be provided to the attending physician, the hospital administrator, or their designee. Upon presentation of documentation of exposure in a fashion consistent with biologically plausible transmission of the infectious agent, the funeral home director may be provided with the specific name of the infectious agent.~~

~~(5) A funeral home director so notified shall inform the exposed employee of the specific infectious agent.~~
